Elementary students achieve Perfect Attendance

Osmond Elementary School students made coming to school one of their highest priorities for the 2016-2017 school year.

Sixteen students in a variety of grade levels achieved Perfect Attendance for Quarter 3 in the 2016-2017 school year.

Of these students, a majority came from sixth grade (7). These were Connor Anderson, Zach Reikofski, Taylor Thompson, Ella Broekemeier, Hudson Schultze, Reese Johns, and Cali Gutz.

The lone fifth grader to attend school every day was Leah Poellet.

Several fourth graders were on the list: Cassady Dominguez, Sophia Gansebom, Keely Gubbels, and Landon Oltjenbruns.

Peyton Brunckhost was the only third grader to earn the award. Vayden Wattier and Kooper Gubbels were the two second graders who made the list.

Kindergartener Kenley Friedrich also had Perfect Attendance.

Congratulations, students, for your commitment to learning.

(Taylor Thompson receives recognition for Perfect Attendance in the third quarter.)

Tigers excel in academics

The Osmond Tigers Junior and Senior High School students had a great quarter academically. Seventy-one of the 109 students had no grades below eighty-five percent in any class.

This started with thirty students who earned recognition as Superior Honor Roll students. These students earned NO grade below a ninety-three percent.

Also forty-one students made Honor Roll. These students had a ninety percent average and had no grade below an eighty-five percent.

Tigers excel in WSC Business Competition Day

BY MRS. MANZER WAYNE—The School of Business & Technology at Wayne State College held its annual Business Competition Day on Tuesday, March 28.

Over 200 students from seventeen regional Nebraska and South Dakota high schools competed in multiple areas of business competitive events.

This included Accounting I and II, Advertising, Business Communications, Business Comprehensive Knowledge, College Quiz Bowl, Computer Literacy, Datamania, Digital Citizenship, Global Business, Marketing, Keyboarding I and II Speed Timings, Personal and Financial Literacy, Sales Presentation, and Web Wizardry.

The top-ranking school was Wausa. Osmond had a small team, but still ranked eighth out of fifteen schools.

Tyler von Rentzell earned first place in Global Business and fourth place in Business Communications; Diane Kruse earned third place in Accounting II, and Hannah Gutz received fourth place in Accounting II.

Anatomy class hosts Red Cross Blood Drive

The Osmond High School Anatomy class and the American Red Cross collaborated to host a blood drive for the Osmond community on Tuesday, March 21 in the OCS gym.

The blood drive totaled 57 units, which was over the class goal (45 units).

This number continues to go up from past drives. A year ago, the drive yielded 45 units.

"We had fifty-six presenting donors giving fifty-seven total units. This was twelve units over our goal!" Anatomy Teacher Mrs. Kerri Conn said.

Jensen sisters sixth at District Speech

The Osmond Tigers speech team competed in their district speech meet at West Boyd High School in Spencer on Tuesday, March 14.

Jessica and Leslie Jensen (both juniors) earned sixth place in Duet Acting.

The Jensens earned a spot in Finals after finishing fourth (Round 1) and third (Round 2) in their preliminary rounds. (The tournament was formatted with two preliminary rounds to determine who made it into a final round.)

"This was the duet's first time competing in finals, and they finished sixth overall—earning them a medal," Tigers' Speech Director Christalin Ginn said.

The Tigers scored thirty-one points total including sixteen from Duet Acting, eight points from Oral Interpretation of Serious Prose, and seven points from Extemporaneous Speaking.

Overall, the team finished in eighth place behind seventh place Elkhorn Valley (56).

Aleia Kumm (Jr.) finished just outside of Finals after placing fourth (Round 1) and fifth (Round 2) in her preliminary rounds.

Kumm battled in her preliminary rounds, but was one of three that did not make it into Finals.

"Aleia placed third in the first round, but went over the allotted time, so she fell to fourth," Ginn said.

The Tigers' lone Extemporaneous Speaking contestant, Anthony Heiman (So.), had a tough first round as was unable to make it to Finals.

He placed fourth (Round 1) and third (Round 2) in his preliminary rounds.

Ginn was pleased with her speakers' first round performance: "In the first round, no one scored below a 44 out of 50, which is the best we have done all year."

Overall, the Tigers (though few in numbers) had a productive year. They improved gradually as the season progressed.

"I am...

...super proud of every single one of them. I have seen them work really hard this year. We earned three more medals than we did last year. This improvement is tremendous," Ginn added.

Quiz Bowlers test their knowledge

NELIGH—The Osmond Tigers Junior and Senior High Quiz Bowl teams competed in the ESU 8 Junior and Senior High Quiz Bowls in Neligh on Tuesday, March 7 and Wednesday, March 8.

The junior high team defeated Madison by fifteen points and then lost to both Stanton and O'Neill St. Mary's. Both losses were within ten points.

The high school squad took down Clearwater-Orchard, while losing to Verdigre and then Elgin Public. The Tigers' win was by fifteen points.

"Overall our students performed well, and I couldn't be prouder of the group of students who participated," Tigers Quiz Bowl Sponsor Jeffrey Hrabik said.

Tigers interact with Read Across America Day

Osmond Community School elementary students celebrated Read Across America on Thursday, March 2.

Students participated in a variety of activities in their individual classrooms: art projects, watching Dr. Seuss videos, and answering Dr. Seuss trivia.

The day ended with older and younger students pairing up to read to each other and by enjoying cupcakes honoring Dr. Seuss' birthday.

Elementary Student Council members provided cupcakes. This year marks the twentieth anniversary of Read Across America.

FBLA Meeting focuses on Dinner Etiquette

The March FBLA meeting on Monday, March 20 started with a lesson on Dinner Etiquette in the OCS FCS room.

Members participating were The Pathetics (Tyler von Rentzell and Diane Kruse) and The Sophisticats (Caitlin Kumm and Shelby Aschoff), Server (Tristan Maertins) and Narrator (Bryan Manzer).

The skit showed the correct way to act, and more importantly eat while in public.

The FBLA Chapter earned an Action Awareness Award because of their activities during FBLA Week, and other Career and Technical Educational Activities.

It was mentioned that members should be thinking about running for a local office, as elections will take place at the April meeting.

Committees for the May Awards Ceremony were set up, so planning will begin soon for that event.

Students attending State Leadership Conference (SLC) discussed the upcoming event.

SLC takes place on April 6-8 this year in Omaha. Students attending will be: Shelby Aschoff, Diane Kruse, Andrea Schmit, Anthony Heiman, Bryan Manzer, and Tyler von Rentzell.

The Agriscience team of Zach Alderson, Landon Stelling, Josh Gansebom, and Madeline Huwaldt finished third overall being beat only by Crofton and Creighton.

Earning individual honors were Zach, Landon, and Josh who received fifth, sixth, and seventh places respectively.

Madeline finished an honorable twenty-fourth. This team will compete at the state competition in April.

The Farm Management team of Tristan Maertins, Alex Alderson, Tyler von Rentzell, and Nick Reikofski received second and qualified for state.

Earning individual honors were Tristan (second place) and Alex (fourth place). Tyler and Nick finished in eighteenth and twentieth respectively.

The Agriculture Biotechnology team of Alex Alderson, Tyler von Rentzell, and Nick Reikofski were the contest champions, which also qualified them for the state contest.

Earning individual honors for their team were Alex Alderson (champion), Tyler von Rentzell (second place), and Nick Reikofski (fourth).

Seniors Cole Moes and Bryan Manzer tried their hands in the welding contest but came up short of placing.

The State FFA

Convention and Contests will be held April 5-7, 2017 in Lincoln.

Many of the contests will be held on the University of Nebraska Lincoln's East Campus, with Convention Sessions to be held at the Pinnacle Bank Arena in downtown Lincoln.

Music programs host concert

The Osmond High School Music Program hosted its Jr. and Sr. High School Instrumental and Vocal

March Spring Concert on Tuesday, March 7 in the OCS Gymnasium.

The concert consisted of four sections: Junior High Mixed Chorus, High School Chorus, Junior High Concert Band, and Senior High Concert Band.

Starting off the show was the Junior High Mixed Chorus. They sang "Be Our Guest" (Ed Lojeski) and "Can You Feel the Love Tonight" (Keith Christopher).

A mix of seventh and eighth graders performed as part of this group.

The seventh graders included Macy Aschoff, Hunter Beacom, Molly Beacom, Grace Gansebom, Lillie Gansebom, Mason Gansebom, Stevin Hasler, Holly Jensen, Kiera Moes, Bailey Schmit, Bryan Solorzano, Kenzie von Rentzell, Riley Wagner, and Keaton Wattier.

There are nineteen eighth graders with this too.

These are Allison Aschoff, Blake Bahr, Alexis Beacom, Zach Boyle, Johnson Chishiba, Sam DeLaCruz, Tessa, Dominguez, Brenden Gillespie, Alleynah Gray, Elisa Herrera, Zach Huwaldt, Parker Johnson, Sarah Kelly, Hayle Krienert, Jozie Kumm, Adeline Liermann, Graysen Schultze, and Connor von Rentzell.

Performing next was...

...the High School Chorus. They sang "The River" (Sally Albrecht), "Lift Thine Eyes to the Mountains" (Linda Spevacek), and "My God is a Rock" (Ruth Morris Gray).

The High School Chorus has 16 members: Madie Aschoff (So.), Breanna Bolz (Sr.), Emily Bolz (Jr.), Makayla Boyle (Jr.), Adriona Buchanan (So.), Marina DeLaCruz (Jr.), Bailee Gillespie (Sr.), Anthony Heiman (So.), Jessica Jensen (Jr.), Leslie Jensen (Jr.), Aleia Kumm (Jr.), Caitlin Kumm (Jr.) Cole Moes (Sr.), Mackenzie Schmit (So.), Kelly Schuettler (Jr.), and Makenzie Vargas (Fr.).

Up next was the Junior High Concert Band who played "Beauty and the Beast" (Michael Sweeney) and then "Specto Leviosa" (Stephen Bulla).

Members of the this band were the following: Jozie Kumm (Flute), Connor vonRentzell (Tuba), Lexi Beacom (Baritone), Allie Aschoff (Clarinet), Hayle Krienert (Clarinet), Kiera Moes (Clarinet), Hunter Beacom (Trumpet), Parker Johnson (Trumpet), Bailey Schmit (Trumpet), Ryan Schmit (Trumpet), Bryan Solorzano (Trumpet), Austin Vinson (Trumpet), Riley Wagner (Trumpet), Blake Bahr (Alto Saxaphone), Connor Gutz (Alto Saxaphone), Keaton Wattier (Saxaphone), Johnson Chishiba (Percussion), Holly Jensen (Percussion), Brady Stech (Percussion), Alex Heiman (Bari Saxophone), Zach Huwaldt (Trombone), Bodie True (Trombone), and Patrick Vinson (Trombone).

The Senior High Concert Band provided a finale for the concert; they played "Metrodance" (Randall D. Standridge), "Under the Irish Sky" (Larry Neeck), and Eternal Peaks (Robert W. Smith).

Of the four high school classes, the Tigers have thirty-five members in eleven sections.

This starts with seven flutes: Shelby Aschoff (Sr.), Makayla Boyle (Jr.), Brandi Gansebom (So.), Madeline Huwaldt (Fr.), Jessica Jensen (Jr.), Andrea Schmit (Jr.), and Haven Schultze (So.).

There are three alto saxophones; these include Zach Alderson (Fr.), Erin Schultz (Jr.), and Landon Stelling (Fr.). Alexis Solorzano (Fr.) is the group's tenor saxophone.

One of the band's biggest sections is the clarinet section (7). These are Breanna Bolz (Sr.), Leslie Jensen (Jr.), Kendyl Koehler (Sr.), Diane Kruse (Sr.), Kelly Schuettler (Jr.), Kayla Wingert (So.), and Ashley Wingert (Fr.).

Shyann Rohloff-Levos is the group's only bass clarinet.

The trumpets have five members: Josh Gansebom (Fr.), Makenzie Johnson (So.), Mary Kahny (Fr.), Ethan Pfanstiel (Jr.), and Nick Reikofski (So.).

Four trombones make up part of the band. This is probably the most experienced section age-wise. These are Hailey Johnson (Sr.), Cole Moes (Sr.), Logan Stelling (Fr.), and Tucker Timmerman (Sr.).

Jared Bessmer is the band's baritone; Aleia Kumm (Jr.) plays the tuba; Alex Kumm (Jr.) is on the french horn.

Indoor Records Fall at WSC Indoor

BY MR. ORTMEIER

WAYNE—The Osmond Track and Field teams traveled to Wayne State College for the Division 1 Meet on Saturday, March 18.

The Tigers had some impressive performances and three record-breaking efforts.

The first was by the girls 640 M Relay as they won the event in a time of 1:32.52.

Team members were Haven Schultze (So.), Makenzie Johnson (So.), Kennedy Johnson (Fr.), and Andrea Schmit (Jr.).

The record was 1:33.27 from 2006 with team members Kelsey Nuesh, Betsy Krienert, Kristen Peschel, and Amanda Hodson.

The girls 1600 M Relay team also bettered the indoor record as they were clocked in 4:38.06 which was good for third place.

Current team members are Madeline Huwaldt (Fr.), Haven Schultze (So.), Kennedy Johnson (Fr.), and Makenzie Johnson (So.).

(The 640 M Relay and 1600 M Relay teams (L-R): Haven Schultze, Makenzie Johnson, Kennedy Johnson, Andrea Schmit, Madeline Huwaldt.)

The record was 4:41.59 from 2010 and team members were Brianna Kumm, Emily Haselhorst, Laurel Krohn, and Carrisa Gutz.

The final record-setting event was the last of the day. The boys 1600 M Relay won the event easily in a time of 3:49.47.

Team members are Curtis Kralicek (Sr.), Brock Johnson (Sr.), Anthony Heiman (So.), and Brett Simmons (Sr.).

The former record was 3:52.19 from 2004 with team members Michael Ortmeier, Cody Dennis, Zach Buol, and Evan Friedrich.

Brock Johnson (Sr.) had very good attempts at 6' in the High Jump but cleared 5'10 for second place. Alex Palu took...

Curtis Kralicek (Sr.) was out-leaned in the 55 Hurdles for second place, and it took instant replay to decide. His time was 8.86 and the winner from Columbus Scotus ran 8.85.

The 3200 M Run also needed instant replay to decide second place as Jared Bessmer (So.) out-leaned Thomazin from Scotus. Jared sprinted to the line in 11:17.59, and third place was 11:17.77.

Joshua Gansebom (Fr.) finished in sixth place in the 1600 M Run in a nice time of 5:26.13.

The boys 640 M Relay team placed second in 1:24.29. The team of Tyler Reikofski (Sr.), Nick Reikofski (So.), Brett Simmons (Sr.), and Brock Johnson (Sr.) navigated a rough exchange zone twice to get the baton around to the finish line.

The 3200 M Relay team of Bessmer, Heiman (So.), Palu, and Gansebom ran 10:01.7 for a third-place finish.

In the sand jumps, Kyle Swallow (Sr.) popped his best Long Jump ever for fourth place. His distance was 18'-10.75".

In the Triple Jump, he finished in fifth place with a mark of 38'-9.75".

Makenzie Johnson (Jr.) won the High Jump with a jump of 4'10". She had good attempts at 5', but it was her lack of misses that won the event for her.

Andrea Schmit (Jr.) took fourth place in a very quick 55 Meter Dash. Her time was 8.01. Haven Schultze was fifth in the 200 M Run in 29.9.

Kennedy Johnson took fourth place in the Triple Jump with her best ever jump of 31'8".

"We did a very good job on Saturday and really competed well," praised Coach Joe Ortmeier. "We can build on these marks and really have a special season."

Teams competing were Boone Central, Columbus Scotus, Norfolk Catholic, Osmond, Stanton, Wayne, and West Holt.

Letter winners eye improvement in 2017

Three letter winners lead this year's 2017 golf squad. These are Alex Kumm (Jr.), Drew Krienert (Jr.), and Brenden Hille (Jr.).

Junior Alex Kumm was last year's leading scorer and is a returning state qualifier. Alex averaged a forty-two per nine-hole round last year and medaled in every meet that he played in.

Junior Brenden Hille returns as the fourth leading scorer from last year's team and also played in the state meet via team qualifying.

Drew Krienert is the third returning letter winner and last year's fifth leading scorer; he also participated in state play.

Brenden and Drew averaged forty-eight and forty-nine, respectively, per nine-hole round.

Junior Tristian Maertins appears to be playing his way to a varsity spot and is the only other player to medal in major meet competition last year.

Other players in contention for playing time are senior Blake Aschoff, junior Ethan Pfanstiel, sophomore Dylan Schmit and senior Tyler von Rentzell.

Freshmen members of this year's team are Logan Stelling and Zach Alderson.

The Tigers duelled Creighton while the other three schools played a triangular.

In the dual competition, the state runner-up Bulldogs beat the Tigers 167-187. Creighton's Chase Largen was the medalist on the day with a thirty-eight.

The Tigers were led by Alex Kumm, who shot a forty-one, supported by Drew Krienert, who carded a forty-five.

Senior Blake Aschoff was next in line for Osmond with a forty-nine, followed by Brenden Hille and Tristian Maertins who each shot 52's.

Sophomore Dylan Schmit was the low junior varsity player of all the teams on the day as he shot a fifty-two. Tyler von Rentzell (Sr.) and Ethan Pfanstiel (Jr.) shot fifty-six and a fifty-seven.

Osmond will participate in another triangular next Monday, April 3, at Hartington before beginning their major meet schedule the following week.

Tigers' successes honored for 2017

The Osmond Tigers basketball team saw three team members earn post-season awards for the 2016-2017 season.

Moes earned Lewis and Clark Conference First Team recognition and was named to the Norfolk Daily News First Team Elite Eight.

He was also slated as All-State Class D-1 Honorable Mention for the Lincoln Journal Star.

Johnson was also on the Lewis and Clark Conference First Team.

He made it on the Norfolk Daily News Second Team Elite Eight and was also All-State Class D-1 Honorable Mention for the Lincoln Journal Star.

Timmerman's debut season earned him Lewis and Clark Conference Honorable Mention and Norfolk Daily News Elite Eight Honorable Mention.

(Brock Johnson, Cole Moes and Keaton Timmerman.)

Kumm, Schmit earn All-Conference Honors

ALLEN—Two Osmond Tigers girls basketball players earned All-Lewis and Clark Conference recognition for the West Division for their performance throughout the year.

Caitlin Kumm (Jr., G) was one of eight West

Division players slated as true "All-Conference" performers. Andrea Schmit (Jr., F/G) made the list of eight Honorable Mention players.

This is Kumm's second consecutive year being named to the list.

Kumm finished the season scoring 12.2 points per game. She produced 5.4 rebounds per game and had just over three steals per game (Nearly three times more than any other Tiger).

As one of the Tigers' most reliable free-throw shooters, Kumm scored over a fourth of her points from the line (63-for-96, 66%).

Overall Kumm was 74-for-303 from the field (24%).

Her counterpart Andrea Schmit had a solid season. She led the team in rebounding (6.8/game); she scored 8.4 points per game (59-221, 27%).

Schmit's shot 44-for-82 from the free-throw line. She had nine blocks and eighteen steals.

The other seven girls selected to the All-Conference team were Sara Castanada (Bloomfield), Amber Bruegmann (Bloomfield), Carlee Thies (Randolph), Carlie Nordhues (Randolph), Krissy Kumm (Wausa), Regan Hennings (Wausa), and Sydney Walton (Creighton).

Honorable Mention selections were Renee Kauth (Bloomfield), Jordyn Anderson (Plainview), Catie Williams (Plainview), Nikki Mosel (Plainview), Megan Klienschmit (Wausa), Chelsea Boelter (Creighton), and Cassidy Moeller (Creighton).

(Kumm and Schmit were tabbed as All-Lewis and Clark Conference Honors.)

Johnson, Reikofski earn places to play in Norfolk

BY MR. BRUMMELS
NORFOLK—Brock Johnson and Tyler Reikofski, two seniors at Osmond Community School, have been selected to play in the NEN All Star football game scheduled to be played at the Memorial Field in Norfolk on Saturday, June 10.

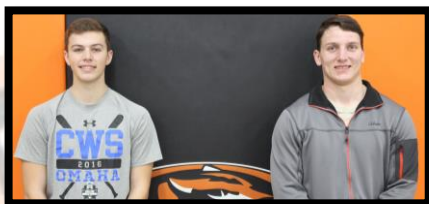

Brock and Tyler were selected as part of the 36-man White team for the game.

Brock has been tabbed to play on the offensive side of the ball, and Tyler has been tabbed as a linebacker for the defense

Both will take part in practices at Norfolk High the week prior to the game.

Past Osmond players that have been selected for the game are Carlin Krienert and Andrew Folkers for the inaugural game in 2013 and Max Frank for last year's game.

(L-R: Brock Johnson and Tyler Reikofski were both named to an all-star football game in Norfolk)

Reikofski named to 8 Man All-Star Roster

BY MR. BRUMMELS
CLARKS—Tyler Reikofski, a senior at Osmond Community School, has been selected to play in the fortieth annual Sertoma 8-Man All Star Game scheduled to be played in Hastings on Saturday, June 17.

Tyler will participate in a week-long camp in Hastings along with forty other of the best 8-Man football players in the state leading up to the game which will be played on Tom Osborne Field on the campus of Hastings College.

Tyler will be a member of the East squad that will be led by Coaches Chris Ardissono and Scott Shipley from Bruening/Davenport/Schickley, Ron Beacom from Neligh-Oakdale, and Brian Blevens of Lawrence-Nelson.

Other recent Osmond grads to be selected to play in the game are Michael Koehler, James Stueckrath, Carlin Krienert, and Max Frank.
